Dracula

By Bram Stoker

Adapted for the stage by
Liz Lochhead

Directed by
Amy Starkey & Clive Scarff
Oct 6—21, 2017

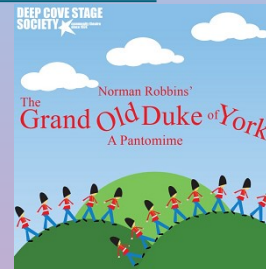

Set in Victorian England, the immortal tale is re-told with Mina and Lucy awaiting their heart's desires, while Mina's fiancé visits the mysterious Dracula's castle, and Renfield howls for her master from Bedlam asylum... when the sun goes down and the wind picks up, strange things stir in the dead of night.

The Grand Old Duke Of York

By Norman Robbins

Directed by Angie McLeod
Dec 15-30, 2017

The Ancient City of York is in trouble! The conniving Baron Snatcher has cancelled the Annual Fayre and banned fun and laughter. Even worse, he is plotting with the Evil Fairy Maleficent to overthrow the Duke and destroy his famous army of Ten Thousand Men. Join us for a night of Family Fun during our annual Christmas Pantomime that is full of slapstick, romance, music and laughter.

Blithe Spirit

By Noel Coward

Directed by Jacquolyne Keath

Apr 6— Apr 21, 2018

A timeless comedy exploring love and marriage, a dinner party turns into mayhem when Madame Arcati's séance provokes the ghost of Elvira, his late first wife, and only Charles can hear her. Will Charles ever be free of Elvira?

Camelot

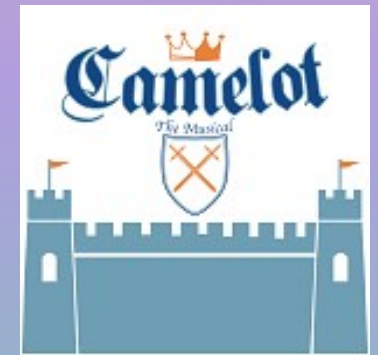

A Musical

By Alan Jay Lerner (book & lyrics) and

Frederick Loewe

Directed by Chalene Scott
June 15-30, 2018

Will Princess Guinevere be the best thing that ever happened to Arthur or the downfall of an empire? A fresh take on the age old story of King Arthur, a man with big dreams, featuring the beautiful music of Alan Jay Lerner and Fredrick Loewe.
